

Financial Review

The Southern Oregon Land Conservancy had assets totalling $524,080 at the end of 2009, 6% above 2008. This includes an $83,000 operating reserve fund. The balance is restricted to stewardship costs, land acquisition and an Endowment Fund.

Total income for 2009 was $253,692. Fifty-four percent came from individual donations which include member dues and large gifts. Total expenses for the year were $249,216.

Acres Protected

Over 8,200 acres of unique farm, forest, park and ranch lands on 42 properties are protected through conservation easements with both public and private landowners.

2009 Annual Report

The Southern Oregon Land Conservancy is dedicated to protecting special lands in the Rogue Basin and surrounding areas for this and future generations by working cooperatively with landowners and communities.

OREGON
CONSERVANCY

Dear Friends,

At the beginning of 2009 and throughout the year, the economic outlook was bleak. We acted early, making cuts in our budget where possible in order to better ensure that we were able to end the year with a positive operating balance. We were taken by surprise by the outpouring of support that you, our members, gave us throughout 2009. Despite the poor economic conditions, the Southern Oregon Land Conservancy ended 2009 with a small surplus of income over expenses! We recognize the magnitude of this accomplishment, which would not have been possible without your generous support. We are indeed grateful to each and every one of you and promise to uphold the trust you have placed in us. Thank you!

We also recognize the talented and dedicated staff who played a large part in this success. Our Conservation Coordinator, Dom DiPaolo, completed two conservation projects and monitored all 42 properties we protect. Michael Stringer, our Development Director, took the name of the Southern Oregon Land Conservancy and made it prominently known in over 15,000 households in Jackson and Josephine counties. Seventy-five new members joined our family in 2009 as a result of those outreach efforts - increasing our membership by nearly 20%.

In addition to our members, community partners, and staff, we are grateful to the Board of Directors, Lands Advisory Board and Trustee Council for giving their time and expertise in helping us protect more land and connect with those individuals and businesses who can help us do that.

We are entering the third year of our capacity building program made possible with support from the Meyer Memorial Trust and the Oregon Community Foundation. By 2011, we plan to fully support our programs and conservation work through membership gifts alone. It's a challenge we believe we can achieve based on the past year of giving and your commitment to the land and to our efforts to preserve it for future generations.

We hope that each of you will stay as passionate about our work as you have been in the past and help spread the word that land conservation is as vital to our communities as the air we breath, the water we drink and the food we eat.

To all our members, supporters, partners, and friends, thank you. We value your support and will continue to work hard to keep it.

For the Land,

Diane Garcia

2009 Highlights

Two unique properties were protected in 2009 through the donation of conservation easements to the Southern Oregon Land Conservancy. These properties protect agricultural land, including a mile along the Illinois River, and public park land in Jacksonville.

ONE RIVER FARM is located in Cave Junction along the Illinois River in Josephine County. Sixty acres of farmland and a mile of the Illinois River bank were protected in this conservation easement donated by the landowners. This project preserves in perpetuity a community resource of open space within the city of Cave Junction.

The QUARRY PROPERTY in Jacksonville is part of the Jacksonville Woodlands and Trails park system. The nine-acre wooded parcel sits on the west end of California Street at the entrance to the City. The conservation easement on this property ensures that it will always remain public parkland for the residents of Jacksonville and the many visitors who enjoy the miles of trails encircling the town.
